MRS. B. DUNWOODY SINGS

Tradition Binds Course of Various Numbers Listed On Day's Program

On August 31 occurred the wedding of Miss Dorothy Mae Todd of Grand Rapids, to Mr. Ronald Hoyt Fell, '24, of Holland. Dean Charles E. Jackson read the marriage service. The bridesmaids were Miss Betty Frank of Rochester, Minnesota, Miss Helen Boer, Miss Kathryn Coye, and Miss Audrey Annable.

The former Miss Todd was athletic director for girls in the Holland public schools for three years. Mr. and Mrs. Fell will live in Chicago, where Mr. Fell is studying.

Miss Lucile E. Heemstra, '21, became the bride of Mr. Richard J. Hager, '22. The bride's father, Rev. John F. Heemstra, '95, performed the ceremony at his home, the parsonage of the Fourth Reformed church. Mr. and Mrs. Titus Hager, the brother and sister-in-law of the groom, were the only attendants. Mrs. Hager has been teaching in the East Grand Rapids high school while Mr. Hager has been studying in the dental college of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Hager will live in Ann Arbor this coming year where Mr. Hager expects to complete the senior year.

Rev. Dirk Dykstra, '06, and Mrs. Dykstra, who also attended Hope College, have returned to America from Arabia, where they have served the Reformed Church as missionaries for twenty years. This is the third furlough they have had. Mr. Dykstra has been superintending the building of two hospitals in Arabia, one for Rev. L. P. Dame, and the other for Rev. James E. Moerdyke, '97. The new hospitals have a ground floor space of one hundred and six feet by sixty-two feet.

On August 13, 1927, Miss Jeanette Hoffman, '23, of Holland, and Mr. James W. Neckers, '23, of Clymer, New York, were married at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James M. Martin. The bride was attended by Miss Laura Neckers of Clymer and Miss Beatrice Rooks of Lansing, Michigan. Dr. Harvey Kleinhekel of Holland, was best man. In June, 1927, Mr. Neckers received a Ph. D. degree from the University of Illinois. Mrs. Neckers has been principal of the high school at Jamestown, Michigan for the past four years. Mr. Neckers has been appointed a member of the faculty of Southern Illinois State Normal University, at Carbondale, Illinois.

Evidently Cupid has been busy, for on August 22 another wedding of a Hope graduate occurred. Miss Zera Vrieling and Mr. Alonzo Wierenga, '26, were married in Holland, the Rev. William Masselink performing the ceremony. The bride was attended by Mrs. Andrew Klomparsens, and the groom by his brother. The bride has been a teacher in the Christian School in Holland. Mr. Wierenga is a teacher of mathematics in the high school at South Haven, Michigan.

FROSH WHIRL IN SOCIETY RUSHING

FIRST MEETINGS ARE FOLLOWED BY COMPETITION FOR MEMBERS

Another September rolls around bringing with it the opening of a new school year with its hidden treasures of knowledge and fun. Students throng the campus hurrying here and there, meeting old friends and making many new acquaintances. As the days go by, more students appear with books tucked under their arms, and the atmosphere smacks of real college life.

At the beginning of the year, by far the most activity is shown by the societies, especially those organizations for young men. Every society is right up on their toes, scouting around, meeting the new men, making dates for their meetings, and in a friendly way trying to beat out the other societies.

Here and there on the campus, one sees a bright ribbon or a society pin attached to the lapel of some freshman's coat, indicating that he has already affiliated himself with one of the social organizations. In a few weeks, this rushing will be over and the regular routine of work will begin in earnest, but while the rushing lasts, it proves extremely interesting.

FROSH ORGANIZE AT THE CLASS ELECTION

Enthusiastic first year students assembled in Chapel on Wednesday of last week and organized into the Freshman class with duly elected officers. The meeting was called by Eugene Damstra, Pres. of Student Council, with Ray De Young, then Pres. of the Junior class, and George Clloquennol also present.

The elections resulted as follows: Pres.—Nathaniel Brower. Vice-pres.—Fred Winegarden. Secy.—Gerald Huenink. Treas.—Margaret Boter.

Allen Brunson. Members of Student Council—Margaret Westveer. Harold Boone. Steketee was the Freshmen choice as a yellmaster.

ourselves to be worthy. "It is one thing to be a college student and another thing to be worthy.

"To be worthy" takes your gifts and your powers and give them a chance to expand. Talents are latent in each individual; they do not come in their completed form. The way of development of each power is thru the acquisition of knowledge. The cost of knowledge is tremendous; several of our heroes of the air paid dearly even with their lives.

"There is no royal road to knowledge; it demands the best we have." Knowledge is good, but it alone is not education since the educated man must also have the capacity for an appreciation of the finer things of life.

A Christ-like personality is the first requisite. Its mellow influence is necessary for character.

Real friendships aim at the same goal. "Keep your friendships in repair" and "make friends and your friends will make you."

There is much confusion of thought in this day of shifting standards, but Dr. Brook brings this message of cheer to the youth that "if there is a revolt against conformity, it is a revolt that will make for a better morality."

Student life is five-sided—literary, scientific, aesthetic, ethical, and religious. The last is the most important and will never be neglected.

Dr. Brook closed with an appeal that religion be a religion of service. "We receive our life only to share it with our fellow-men." That is the ideal in keeping with the traditions of Hope that is the goal to spur on her students.

The entire address, sprinkled thru with quotations and rich in contemporary thought, showed the wide background of the speaker.

The exercises closed with song and all present felt a greater urge to work and to be worthy of success.

School of Music Presents Concert

Two Artists Appear

A large and appreciative audience was present last Wednesday evening at Winants Chapel to enjoy the initial concert of the College School of Music. It was a complimentary convocation concert, consisting of a joint recital by two sincere and pleasing artists, Ruth Breytspraak-Heyman, a noted Chicago violinist, and Nella Meyer of Holland and New York City, a brilliant pianist.

A rather severely classical program was presented by the two artists in their ensemble numbers by Brahms and Grieg, somewhat mollified by the solo offerings by Chopin, Brahms, Dvorak-Kreisler and Cecil Burrell.

The audience consisted of the elect, in point of rapt attention and intelligent appreciation. Dr. J. B. Nykerk, secretary of the School of Music, was helpful in his introductory remarks towards preparing the young students of music for the feast that was to follow, so that the sonatas with their three movements each proved so intriguing that, to the youngest tyro, the music was indeed "linked sweetness long drawn out." The understanding between violinist and pianist was perfect.

Here follows the program: Sonata in G major, for violin and piano, by Brahms, three movements—Vivace, Adagio, Allegro; Piano solo—(a) Chopin Etude; (b) Brahms Intermezzo; Violin solo—(a) Slavonic Dance, by Dvorak-Kreisler, (b) "The Hills," by Cecil Burrell. Sonata in G minor, for violin and piano, by Grieg, three movements—Lento—Introduction, Allegro vivace; Allegretto tranquillo; Allegro Animato.

TWO DRAMAS ARE DRAWING CARD IN LECTURE COURSE

CROWDS SHOULD SEE TWO PLAYS
GIVEN UNDER AUSPICES
OF A. A. FUND

Two popular plays, "Abraham Lincoln" and "A Message From Mars" are two great drawing features for this year's lecture course.

"Abraham Lincoln" was originally produced in Birmingham, England, with great success, and later met a phenomenal triumph in London. It is a drama of character, showing the Great Emancipator in a most real fashion. The writer "reveals the very soul of Lincoln." America has not been surpassed by England in her delight for the dramatic success of the last decade. The New York cast which will present the drama at Carnegie during the lecture course has been selected for ability to portray the historical characters which they play.

"A Message From Mars" is the second play which will provide a distinctly different type of program. It is a dream play. In the course of the plot Horace Parker, the central figure, becomes a student of astronomy with special attention to the probability of inhabitants on Mars. He falls asleep over the subject and dreams of the Mars habitation. Upon awakening, he finds several experiences like those of his dream. He turns from a selfish skin-flint to a generous good fellow after he had toured the town with the message from Mars. This plot is popular in its portrayal, because it is human and presents a message most subtly. The dream is the key to the whole drama. Again, a fine New York cast presents this play.

Dr. J. B. Nykerk has placed a popular price upon these attractive programs. As announced last week, the season tickets will sell at three dollars each. Except for the first two rows, all seats in the balcony will be sold at the price of fifty cents each. The final feature of this year's program is the plan to donate the proceeds to the Hope Athletic Association. Students have been anxious to erase the A. A. debt for some time and here is an opportunity to work for athletics and see a worth-while program at the same time.

FROSH ATTEND COLLEGE CHAPEL

PRES. DIMMENT MAKES REMARKS AT FIRST REGULAR SESSION

On Wednesday, September 21, the Frosh got their first real taste of college routine. As the chapel is a part of our regular college life, and attendance daily is compulsory, the new students were anxious to see what it was that they must undergo. As this form of opening is not found in many colleges, they had no idea of what it was to be.

One thing, they got a good mouthful of, was one of Dr. Dimment's chapel talks which occur frequently throughout the year. He waded right in to a most difficult task, that of giving advice to the Frosh. His main idea was, "Have a purpose." He emphasized it further by saying that every student should have a purpose for going to school, even if he is sure of it or not. Sticking to a purpose is as important as having one. Look at the sand burr, it sticks. He then preceded into schedule, class, and requirement changes. Beginning next year it will take three laboratory hours for one hour of credit, as against this year's two. There will also be new regulations in 1928 for applicants desiring state teacher's diplomas. A life certificate will then be offered instead of a provisional certificate.

This is but one of the many inspirational talks we will get from Dr. Dimment, and a real treat is in store especially for the new students, for our President always has something worth while hearing and his style of delivery is so pleasing and delightful.

OLD REGULATIONS HOLD

Rules Confine Course of Freshmen
To Same Old-Time
Restrictions

At a general student mass meeting held on Thursday evening, the freshman Class was forced to accept the following rules and regulations:

5. No Freshman girl or boy shall appear on the streets later than 10:30 P. M.

6. All upper classmen shall be given preference in entering all buildings except dormitories, and all Freshmen fellows must tip their hats or caps to upper class men. Upper classmen here being interpreted as Juniors and Seniors.

"BIG SISTERS" INTRODUCE FROSH AT Y. W. MEETING

The first meeting of the year of the Y. M. C. A., was held in Winants Chapel on Thursday evening with a large number of girls present. Edith McGilvra had charge of the devotional period after which the president, Helen Zander, welcomed the new girls. Gladys Huijzinga furnished special music.

The latter part of the evening was used as a social period in which the "big sisters" introduced their little sisters, and all became better acquainted as they visited, and ate frost bites. Let us keep up the good attendance girls, and make this year of "Y" work, the biggest and best ever.

Class Officers Are Selected

Are Semester Leaders

Although lacking the outer adornment of last year, the Sophomore class is back again this year, right up on their toes ready to go. However they have met a serious disappointment in that a large number of the fellows and girls of last years class have failed to reappear upon the campus. Class leaders, athletes, and all around good students are among the missing, leaving only the remnant of the class to keep up the enviable record of the "Class of '30".

A peppy election of officers was held Thursday afternoon at Sept. 22, two o'clock in the chapel. As a result of the election, the following officers were elected.

President—Maurice Marcus. Vice President—Wm. Jansen. Secretary—Doris Brouwer. Treasurer—Alice Brunson. Student Council members—Myra Ten Cate, Warren De Pree. Pull Captain—Henry "Chief" Van Wesel. Pull Coaches—Leon Kleis and Clinton Cole.

7. Resolved that the hat day as established in 1923 be continued by the institution upon which day the Freshman Rules shall go out of force, and the Freshman Class shall burn upon the College bonfire the hats, ties, and ribbons they have worn.

Exceptions

No Freshman rules shall be in force on Sunday.

No Freshman rules shall be in force on Society nights or on the nights of the Lyceum Course numbers.

Be it resolved that this machinery for the enforcement of the Freshman rules be established:

That any infringement of any of the above rules be reported by any member of the Sophomore class to a committee of justice appointed by the Student Council out of the Senior class. That the offending student be given the right of defending him or herself by securing the best student lawyer he can obtain and fighting prosecution, the time limit for court trials being as follows: each lawyer eight minutes, five minutes for his witness and three minutes for his own plea. That in event of conviction by the Senior committee, the chief justice shall impose a sentence on the guilty student and have for his authority the assistance of Sophomore officers of Justice.

Resolved that any example of force in enforcing these rules by Sophomore class without authority of the Senior committee of Justice, shall be reported by any member of the Freshman class, whereupon the offending member of the Sophomore class shall be brought before the Senior committee of Justice with the privilege of the most capable defense obtainable in the student body, and convicted or exonerated as the court decides, and punished or freed as the court decides, the court having for its assistance the aid of a committee of Freshmen officers of Justice.

GREEN HOPEITES HAVE THE PEP

CLASS FIGHTS AND CLASS YELLS
SHOW YEARLINGS SPIRIT

At the opening of the school year, every one watches with interest the new Freshmen class. Will it accomplish anything, has it got pep, what athletic, oratorical, on fighting material does it possess? All these questions remained to be answered, and all eyes are found on the new students. Pep and enthusiasm certainly is not lacking. Already several Sophs have had free one way trips to the country, and Friday morning's "fracas" gave the Frosh a chance to show that they had a couple of Gene Tunney's in their class. The Sophs will have to watch themselves at the pull this year. Green Pots and ties have been secured so now we can tell the Freshmen from the faculty and seniors.

Societies also are keenly watching for good men, as the rushing rule is in force this year, and the early bird gets the worm. Of course the fellows have a reason, unknown to others, for taking an interest in the new comers.

In all lines and activities we are expecting much from our Frosh although they don't get much in return until after Thanksgiving. So here's three cheers for our Freshmen Class and an extra big welcome!

NOMINATIONS ARE MADE FOR BUSINESS MANAGER

Nominations for the position of business manager of the Milestone of '28, were made at a recent meeting of the Junior Class and the nominees are as follows: Otto Yntema, Walter De Velder, G. Killey, Frank Brokaw, Jacob Gulick and Jack Pelon. Elections will follow at a later date.

This action was necessary because of a vacancy in that office due to the fact that Paul Van Es, who was elected last year, has discontinued his studies at Hope.

WHY DID THEY LEAVE?

In writing an account of the class elections, the reporter makes this comment: "The class met a serious disappointment in that a large number of the fellows and girls of last year's class have failed to reappear upon the campus." Investigation shows that this experience is not unique to the given group.

Failure of any large number of worth-while Hopeites to return must prompt the question: Why did they leave? It is a fact that the stability of a college reputation depends upon the stability of the student body. Roving students never possess enough school spirit to contribute anything to the raising of college standards. Knowing this to be true, we are anxious about this apparently unhealthy sign. We believe that the condition merits thorough investigation. Then if Hope is to blame, the fault can be corrected. However, if it is merely a case of losing temporarily because the school may have adopted some progressive educational policy, then we say that we are sorry for the temporary loss and will be thankful for the final progress. Isn't the question worth some thought?

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH?

When gentleman of the cauliflower profession as Mr. Westbrook Pegler so aptly characterizes those who earn their livelihood (-um and a little bit more) by means of their fists, some of us cheer and some of us do not. Mr. Pegler does not. He has an inimitable way of saying the most caustic things, and the plain, unvarnished truth that make one sit up and think. He is a sports writer who dares to venture his own opinion in his own way, and a very illuminating way it is. He says that he once was present at a prize fight where a game little Irishman with a wife and family was literally pounded to death simply because he was too game to give up, and the official in charge was anxious that the crowd should get its money's worth. Rotten you say. What rank foolishness, to allow anything like that to take place. Its the fun of the game we like, the putting of one man's strength mental and physical, against another's. The disfigurements, the misshapen features that result have come to be looked upon as necessary evils, (altho plastic surgery has proved a boon to the prize-fighter) but actual permanent injury, suffering and even death! No, that certainly is not the thing anyone desires. That is too reminiscent of the old gladiatorial days from which we pride ourselves on having come so far.

And yet, you know we do it every year in practically every college. We call it class spirit. Class spirit is a most desirable thing, but hazing seems so queer a manifestation of it. With less reason than a commercial interest in the outcome, with no real feeling of animosity between us, we pitch into each other in a battle to the death, often simply because it is the thing expected from us. And some of us engage not because we like it but from a sense of duty—of good sportsmanship. Does'nt it often seem childish and futile to waste so much energy in something so purposeless and dangerous? Because while it is fun to some degree there is always danger. It was not at Hope, but it might happen as well here, that some twenty sophomores overtook three freshmen and determined to duck them. Of course the frosh resisted with the result that one had his leg broken, another had his arm so badly bitten that it required treatment and the third had bruises and minor injuries. We do not deliberately set out to have such things happen, but such things do nevertheless happen. And altho some game youngster, who, rather than show the white feather, sticks it out to his own hurt, may not have the family of Mr. Pegler's Irishman, yet it may be just as pitiful as that.

Crepe-hanger! you cry. Perhaps—but that sort of school spirit, which is really mob spirit, should have been, and should be outgrown.

Healthy, spirited competition is alright, but where not alone clothes, features the immediate landscape and even life is endangered, it is a different matter. We might use consideration and moderation and toleration even here.

One For The Golfer

SPEAK

Nothing in the scientific field appears so absolutely new as radio. During the last six years radio has advanced from the mania of experimentors to the toy of fadists and still onward to its period of practical usefulness in millions of homes.

The greatest impetus given to "wireless" the parent of radio, was the invention and use of the vacuum tube. With this instrument the range of radio reception was increased from the twenty-five or fifty miles of the crystal detector to two thousand miles or more and the power or amplification of the signals greatly augmented.

Radio has developed many changes in every side of our daily life. It furnishes an eternal stream of entertainment, from which we may choose whatever branch we desire. It offers us many educational opportunities. Again, radio has shown how necessary a good voice is—for people will not listen to a voice that is not sonorous and the radio will reproduce imperfections of speech as well as the perfect voice.

As a new method of advertising, radio has been very successful though there is still much controversy on the question of the type of advertising should be. High advertising

A Scotchman and a Hebrew were playing a golf match. Each had 100 strokes after 17 holes had been played. On the 18th the Hebrew had a paralytic stroke—and the Scotchman made him count it.—Oil Weekly.

Another On The Scotch

"Have you heard of the Scotchman who made his daughter get married in the back yard?"

"No. Why did he do that?"

"So when the wedding was over, the chickens could pick up the rice."

She Looked Back

A Missouri newspaper remarks: "Lot's wife had nothing much on Mrs. Dave Kirk. The former looked back and turned into a pillar of salt; Mrs. Dave looked back and turned into a telephone pole."

Lecture Material

"My wife explored my pockets last night."

"What did she get?"

"About the same as any other explorer—enough material for a lecture." Judge.

Tired Tim—What's dis here word "ennui" mean, Jim?

Jaded Jim—It's when a fellow gets so lazy he feels dat loafin's darn hard work.

Foolish Question No. 88,888

A man had a scar on his forehead. When asked how he got it, he said that he bit himself.

"And how could you bite yourself on your forehead?" somebody asked him.

"Well," he replied, "I stood on a chair."

About Even

Jones—Sorry, old man, that my hen got loose and scratched up your garden.

Smith—That's all right; my dog ate your hen.

Jones—Fine! I just ran over your dog.

Fess Up

Ruth—Do you still run around with that little blonde?

Ted—She's married now.

Ruth—Answer my question.

The Passing Show

"Pop, can't we move son?"

"Move? Why?"

"Well I've licked all the kids in this neighborhood."—Life.

Horrible Example

Orville Wright, at a dinner in Dayton, was reproached for not taking up the challenge of the Smithsonian Institute that it was Langley, not the Wrights, who was the first to fly. "The trouble with you, Orville," said a banker, "is that you are too tacturn. You don't assert yourself enough. You should press-agitize more."

"My dear friend," Orville Wright answered, "the best talker and the worst flyer among the birds is the parrot."—Detroit Free Press.

rates will help keep the advertising of the best type. The "Red" network of broadcasting stations charges $37.70 an hour for advertising. Police methods have been revolutionized by the radio because of the speed of communication possible.

With the present system of broadcasting, four hundred stations can operate at once without interference, each on a different wave length. This means that a number of stations must share wave-lengths as there are over seven hundred broadcasting stations in the United States. A new method of broadcasting is being perfected, that will allow nineteen hundred stations to operate simultaneously. The "part of the air" allowed for amateur broadcasting, so-called, are the wave lengths from 200 to 625. The higher waves are reserved for government use and are used in army and navy work.

One of the latest developments in radio has been television—the broadcasting of pictures by radio. In this picture-broadcasting a regular radio is used to receive and amplify the radio waves and an additional unit is needed to transfer these waves to sensitized photograph paper. An amateur can make the apparatus for television for less than $100 according to a recent article.

FROSH MUST TAKE PHYSICAL TRAINING

Director of athletics, Jack Schouten, is a busy man these days with Freshmen Physical Training Classes undergoing registration as well as his duties with the football squad. The Freshmen are taking physical examinations with the local M. D.'s, and outside of fallen arches and inflated brain-boxes, they seem to be in fairly good health, giving promise of large classes in both the boys' and girls' physical education departments.

Early registration is compulsory and it is expected that the next two weeks will see these classes firmly established in the Frosh curriculum, with Frosh football men the only ones excused from the classes.

HOME VOLUNTEERS —OPEN YEAR'S WORK —PRESIDENT LEADS

The Home Volunteer opened their year's activities last Friday afternoon. All were glad to see each other again in the old room in the basement of Van Vleck Hall. The service of the hour consisted of prayer and hymns of praise. Harold Hesselink the president, explained what the purposes of the organization are and invited the new men to become members.

The organization bands together those who plan to enter full-time Christian service in the home-land. It also is earnestly striving to develop a better education and hence broader-minded ministry. Like all such organizations it gives inspiration to its members.

This is done by having one of successful experience in various types of Christian work address the weekly meetings.

MASS MEETING HELD THURSDAY

NO FRESH-SOPH. CLASH FOLLOWS
ANNUAL ASSEMBLY
AT GYM

Students, green and otherwise, all gathered at a monstrous mass meeting in Carnegie Gymnasium last Thursday evening to attend to several matters of singularly great import, matters of possible dire consequences to the "rooky" students upon the Campus. It was the occasion of the reading of the Freshmen rules.

Eugene Damstra, Pres. of the Student Council, presided at the meeting and George Cluquenoel read the Freshmen regulations and also the rules applying to the Freshman-Sophomore tug-of-war. An announcement was made that the annual "pull", staged at Black River, would be held on the coming Friday.

The resounding cheers for Hope, led by Dean Martin, were followed by an enthusiastic reception of the Freshman rules on the part of the Sophomores and an audible groaning in the Freshman corner. The Freshmen were game and their cheering for the class made it plain that they were already united and anxious for action.

In order that the would-be wearers of the green might not be at a loss to know how to decorate themselves with their new apparel, two members of the class were chosen victims and were required to get up on the platform and be publicly adorned with the new insignia of their station. They were Pres. Nathaniel Brower and Jeanette Vander Naald. The effective green was hailed with glee by the Sophomores and each Freshman might well begin to visualize himself as a disciple of Saint Patrick.

Cheers opened the meeting, group cheers were interspersed throughout the business, and cheers closed the affair.

CAMPUS

NEWS

This summer Dorothy Mulder learned to drive the car so well that she took it along to Holland. She calls it "True Love," because it never runs smoothly.

We hear that cupid with his bow and arrow was very busy last June. Nor was he idle this summer. Notice the pins Mabel Essenburg, Snoopy Poppen, Betty Nauta, Sarah Klooster, and Ruth Vander Linden are wearing.

Lucile Walvoord from South Holland, Illinois, has been elected as the Freshman member of the House committee at the dorm.

We're glad to see the green pots and ribbons again. But we would easily have distinguished the Freshmen from the rest of the student-body without them.

Some of the students will be late in registering this year. But they usually have special reasons for being tardy. "Snoopy," for instance, is visiting around New York!

John Lloyd Kollen is studying music in Germany this year.

We wonder how many of the collegiate Fords could beat this record: Two flat tires on a 7,000 mile journey. Christine and Nea Webb met with such luck on their trip to and from British Columbia.

We'll miss "Slaughter's" ushering at the basket ball game this winter. For we hear that he is married now and is living in Grand Rapids.

ENGLISH CRITIC'S CORNER

This corner will be devoted to the cultivation of a purer, better English on the campus and in the street and home. Contributions are solicited, not only from the English department of instruction, but from any instructor or student that desires an improvement in spoken English.

Lab Periods

Cut Football

Hamper Practice

The big drawback to faster development of the Hope squad is the inconvenience of laboratory hours. Each afternoon sees many of the football candidates in the laboratory until four and five o'clock because there are no hours for laboratory work. This leaves only half of Hope's small squad on the field with no chance for scrimmage leaving her offense rather weak. Hope is remarkably strong on the defense and the games lost are by a small margin. More than one opposing player has candidly admitted that Hope has a hard-hitting and blocking team, strong on the defense, but which lacks punch on the offense. This is due to a lack of cooperation caused alone by the lack of continued grid practice. The men do not get a chance to work out together long enough at a time. Continued practice with the same men each day for a couple of hours forms an "unconscious co-operation" which each football coach regards as necessary to a winning football team. The lack of co-operation is conducive to individual play and the greatest handicap of a smooth-working offensive machine.

One other factor which is hampering the football team is the fact that Coach Schouten is forced to work with both the varsity and Frosh teams single handed. Under normal conditions this would be possible with enough time to spend on the Varsity to make a winning team. Hope has some very good material but they need practice to win games, and this can't be done unless some arrangements are made about the laboratory hours.

LOWER CLASS-MEN
PREPARE FOR PULL

The annual Frosh-Soph tug-of-war will take place Friday afternoon across Black river undoubtedly at the spot familiarly known as Boone's place. The Frosh are a big bunch of boys and undoubtedly a pull team of big huskies will be the outcome for the Freshman class. As the Anchor was going to press the Freshmen were still tardy in electing a pull captain and none had been chosen as yet, although "Fat" Exo might be given the call to captain the yearlings in the river classic.

The Sophs after viewing the husky newcomers, got busy immediately and chose Van Wezel as their captain. The Sophomore team has had some practices and they feel pretty confident about the outcome, although they are not nearly as cocky as the wearers of the green.

Frosh Players
Look Promising

Men Are Experienced

Freshmen candidates include Bos, Bauman, Wyngarden and Van Eenennaam all from Zeeland and members of the 1926 Zeeland high team. Kroene from Mission House College, Poppink from Rochester, Scudder of New York, Becker of Grand Rapids Union, Joist of South Holland, Illinois, Tellman and Maddaus of New York and McGilova of Iowa complete the out of town candidates.

Steketee, Martin, Bronson, Osting, Exo, Brown and Hill are all former Holland High pigskin toters who complete the Freshman squad.

Some of the Freshman look mighty good and undoubtedly will land berths on the varsity next year.

VARSITY CANDIDATES BEING DOPED
TO SHOW OPPONENTS REAL STUFFSCHOUTEN WORKS TO ROUND OUT
NEUCLEUS OF NINE LETTER MEN

Coach Schouten has been working with nine letter men for the varsity team. The squad will have only eight days of practice when they take the field against Albion Saturday. The letter men include Steffens, the center, who will start in the position again. Steffens is a Holland High product and was a strong man last year. Heine is one of the hardest fighting men that have ever donned a Hope uniform. He should prove a big cog in this year's team. "Brute" Japinga undoubtedly will call signals. Brute is small, but like Steffens has lots of fight. Brute is a good tackler and this year should see him much improved over last season. Much depends on the quarterback, so if Brute delivers in good shape, things in the backfield should go off rather smoothly.

Paul Nettinga will start at a half-back position. Nettinga should have a good year. Last year his play was hampered when he became infected with boils. No trace of the ailment has returned this season so much is expected of this blonde youth in the way of end running and line smashing.

Capt. Russell Japinga is another backfield veteran having two years of varsity ball back of him. Russ has an ideal football build and when going good looks like a million bucks. Russ looks fit and feels great and will start in his old position that of fullback.

The other fleet half, Leon Kleis, should give Albion and all of Hope's opponents plenty of trouble. This is Kleis' fourth year on the varsity and should be his best. Kleis is one of the fleetest backs in the state, and undoubtedly, will be called on many times to gain yardage.

Carl van Lente, a Sophomore end of last year will play at his old position. Cox is a tall, rangy chap, rather adept at snaring passes. Cox will have his hands full at the end of a green line.

Overweg, the other end of last year, if declared eligible will probably play the other end. If Johnny cannot play, Prakken may get the call at an end position. Prakken is tall and rangy and catches passes fairly well, although he is not as aggressive as Overweg. Nick was a substitute end last season.

R. De Jongh will undoubtedly be used in a guard position this year. Ray has lots of fight and takes to the game handily but he lacks experience. With him is Alvin Vanden Bosch, a sub-guard of last year, who is also a hardy scrapper, but who had no experience before entering Hope last year. If these two men develop as hoped the line will be taken care of in pretty good shape. Dean Martin, another lineman aspiring to a berth on varsity will undoubtedly force all other candidates to the limit. Dean is a mighty hard worker and with further training may develop into a good lineman. Martin undoubtedly will be tried out at tackle where he can be used if he shows the stuff as there are no tackles of last years squad returning.

De Cook is another member of last year's squad who is out after a berth. George is fast but rather erratic at times, which can be attributed to inexperience.

Stanley De Free, who hails from Zeeland, and who played a backfield position there may be used in the line as he understands the game.

Two other end candidates are Winter and Flikkema, while Bovenkirk is out for a backfield job. De Velder, Laug, De Weerd Den Herder, Damson, and mosher are aspiring line candidates. All these men are handicapped by inexperience.

There is a tang in the air, and a mellow haze to sunlight that tells us Autumn is here, and Autumn in this town means the return of Youth. Old friends from last year are back in college and there are many new faces on the streets and in our store whom we hope to know better as the year goes on.

But, more than anything else, Autumn means the opening of the football season — that most glorious of all outdoor games.
